THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1943

SIERRA MADRE, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

VOLUME 37, No. 37

Two Brothers
Injured In War ZonesSergeant And Chief Petty
Officer In Widely
Separated Battlefronts

News of injuries received by their sons Lee and Keithel on two very widely separated battlefronts of the global war has been received by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Anthony of 93 Mira Monte ave.

First came word that Keithel, recently promoted to the rank of a chief petty officer in the Navy, had been injured aboard the Astoria in the battle in which the vessel was sunk in the Southwest Pacific area. Announcement of his promotion came with word of his injury from which he is now convalescing at a naval base in New Zealand. He was stationed at Pearl Harbor when the Japs made their December 7 sneak attack and has been in most of the important naval actions in the South and Southwest Pacific since that time. Following his injury he suffered an attack of pneumonia.

Master Sergeant Lee Anthony, oldest of the boys, is said to be returning to the States, under orders, to completely recover from injuries received in the North African invasion. The particular battle in which he was injured and the date was not given in the word received here.

Hinshaw Opposes
Return Of Any Japs
While War Is On

Before flying back to Washington Monday after having come to California to attend the funeral of Congressman Englebright of Nevada City, Congressman Carl Hinshaw declared in Pasadena that the California delegation in Congress will vote unanimously against permitting the return of any Japanese, native born or alien, to West coast areas while the war is on. "It would be a frightful mistake," said Hinshaw, "and is so regarded by General John L. DeWitt of the West Coast command, and the entire Army." He believes a vast majority of citizens of the Pacific states have the same idea of the situation.

Condition Of Dan
Rauscher, Shot By A
Madman, Critical

Condition of Daniel J. Rauscher, member of the local police force who was shot three times by George Ferris Land on May 20, was pronounced extremely grave yesterday as his assailant was committed to the mad house.

Rauscher was moved to the Los Angeles County hospital this week after tetanus had set in, threatening his life. The finest doctors that can be obtained are attending him. He is suffering from a bullet wound in each hand and one in the upper right arm where the main artery was severed.

George Ferris Land, who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, has been committed to the state hospital at Camarillo.

Woman's Club To Hold Open House As Officers Installed

The public is invited to attend the installation of officers and an open house tea of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club next Wednesday, June 9, at 2 p.m.

Bruce McGill will be the installing officer. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Craig McLaughlin at 3333, or with Mrs. Al Miller at 4613, not later than Monday.

This is the first open house since the club house has been entirely redecorated. Music will be furnished by the Mary Connor Jensen string quartet.

School Directors
Election Today

Two members of the Pasadena school board will be elected today. Sierra Madre being a part of the junior high and junior college district will participate. Only polling place in Sierra Madre will be at the grammar school. Polls will be open from 6 a.m. until 7 p.m. Terms of Maynard Turner and Dr. J. Tyler Parker expire this year. They are candidates for re-election. Dr. Edward M. Milum, well known Pasadena physician, and H. M. Lambert, an official of the C.I.O. labor organization, are also candidates.

Danger Spurs
Action For SafetyVigorous Campaign On To Combat Threat To City In Brush Covered Hills

With the mountainside covered with the heaviest growth of brush in many years, and therefore a greater threat to safety of the community with the arrival of hot, dry weather, a vigorous campaign was launched this week to recruit members of the local unit of the Forest Fire Fighters Service. Plans for the recruiting drive and training activities were made at a conference of Art Udell, organizer of the unit, Forest Rangers, Mayor Schwartz and other city officials, and members of the volunteer fire department.

A recruiting committee consisting of Harry Lange, Frank Spencer and City Judge Noren Eaton was appointed. All are members of the Kiwanis Club and when they reported what has been done at the club's weekly meeting on Tuesday and the danger from fire that lurks in the hills the entire membership voted to give its services and to attend the training courses which will be under the direction of Thomas Henderson, fire control assistant to Harry Grace, district forest ranger. Supervising officers are Mayor Tom Schwartz and Art Udell.

The Service is one of five major units of the National Office of Civilian Defense. The training period will begin on Sunday, June 13. Members of the unit and volunteers are asked to meet at the city hall at 7:30 on that morning. Breakfast will be served by a woman's auxiliary and the men will be taken to various fields of action.

Squad leaders who have had 300 hours of training are Fred LaLone, Harry Caskey, Harold Williams and Sam Gorman. Forty-one men and boys have been recruited to date, exclusive of the Kiwanians. They have been working for a month making a fire break from the mountain base of the Double dr., to the Circle H Ranch, and from the mountain base of Auburn ave., across Baldwin ave., to the Circle H fire break.

Harry D. Grace, district ranger,

Stand Against Japs
Return Approved
In This Area

Directed by his colleagues on the board of supervisors to attend hearings in Washington next week by a Congressional committee concerning flood conditions in Los Angeles county, Supervisor William A. Smith came to Sierra Madre yesterday for a further check on damage suffered here during the March storms.

Just before leaving his office to come here he received a copy of resolutions just adopted by the Temple City Chamber of Commerce strongly endorsing his stand on the release of interned Japanese now in relocation centers. His stand on the question has been strongly endorsed throughout the supervisors district, Smith says. Whittier has strongly commended his attitude. So has Garvey, El Monte and other communities. Glendora is now taking a poll on the question that is said to show a ten to one vote against the return of any Japanese to the West Coast whether they be foreign or American born.

District Rationing
Board Needs Help

The War Price and Rationing Board at 129 S. Myrtle ave., is appealing for volunteer assistants to help issue renewals of "B" and "C" gasoline books. The work is of a routine clerical order, such as filing and sorting ration papers. Any persons who can give time to this work should call Dr. A. O. Pritchard at 4472.

says, "Sierra Madre has more to lose through forest fires and destruction of water sheds than any other city along the foothills because of its close proximity to the mountains. Also the fact that if a forest fire should occur, there are few available volunteers who could go to fight the fire."

There will be a special course for men who can give only limited service, because of some physical disability. They will be trained for radio operators, camp managers and first aid service. Mrs. Tom Henderson is in charge of a group of 20 women who will maintain canteen service during emergencies.

Those interested should leave their names at the city hall or contact Harry Lange at 5006.

Awards Await Many Boys At Honor Court

Boy Scout troops of Sierra Madre, part of the 1,589,281 boys and men now active in vital war work through Scouting, will hold their regular Court of Honor at 7:30 p.m., Monday, June 7, in the council chamber of the city hall. A record attendance is expected owing to the increased interest in Scouting since the outbreak of the war when Boy Scouts proved their value as collectors of scrap and rubber and as messengers in O.C.D. and government work.

Among boys to be honored is John Van der Broeke who will receive the second highest recognition in Scouting, the Life Scout award. Troops 1 and 2, along with the Explorer Scouts will participate in the event and the program will feature an official Scout picture containing interesting information on current Boy Scout work.

Presiding over the Court of Honor will be Harry Lange, president of the Kiwanis Club, assisted by Tom Reynolds, local Boy Scout commissioner, and Vic Tenney, a representative of the Scout organization from Pasadena. Dr. J. L. Woehler and Rev. Frederic Grootes will present the awards. As always the public is invited and parents are particularly urged to attend to encourage the boys in their work.

Community V
Gardens
Are Planned

A city-wide campaign to encourage the planting of fall and winter Victory Gardens was authorized at a town meeting in the city hall Saturday night of local citizens interested in boosting the nation's food supply.

A census is now being taken of Sierra Madreans who already have or who plan to plant Victory Gardens. The Block Mothers organization was asked to undertake this job. Later they will distribute booklets prepared by the Los Angeles County Victory Garden Committee containing diagrams, information and instructions for the planting care of fall and winter crops.

Appointment of a committee was authorized by the meeting to canvass the city with the idea of locating and encouraging the planting of neighborhood and community gardens where citizens do not have sufficient room for individual gardens. This committee will locate available vacant lots and negotiate with their owners for their use in the growing of food supplies.

A report from this committee will be submitted to another town meeting which it was unanimously decided should be held soon and which F. D. R. Moore, chairman of the Victory Garden committee, was directed to call.

Army Hospital At Monastery Closed

All convalescent patients have been evacuated from the monastery Army hospital and taken to the Eilers estate hospital and the Vista del Arroyo Hotel, recently converted into an Army hospital. It is probable that the Eilers place will be closed at a later date.

Convalescents at the monastery have been in charge of Lieut. J. Bauman, who is now awaiting transfer call.

It Wasn't Fog

That wasn't fog that rattled down your rainpouts Tuesday evening and early yesterday morning. It was a misty rain that left 0.3 of precipitation—not enough to do any good for Victory or flower gardens, but enough to help germinate weed seeds in recently plowed lots. High fogs during the week have kept the temperature delightfully cool and with little variation. Total rainfall for the season now has been 38.58 inches as against 14.43 at this time a year ago. Temperatures for the week have been:

"GOD BLESS THE WOMEN—THEY'RE DOING A SWELL JOB," SAYS
SHIP BUILDING HEADFast Filling Places In The Great Yards Of Men
Called To Service

"God bless the women—they're doing a swell job," said an executive of the concern who was conducting a party of newspaper publishers through the mammoth plant of the California Shipbuilding Co. on Terminal Island Friday afternoon. They had seen hundreds of women working with welding arcs and all manner of tools, doing all kinds of jobs. At the moment they were passing a husky woman, evidently well past 40, who was rolling a large section of a ship's funnel into place preparatory to going to work on it with a welding arc. It weighed several times more than she did and prompted a member of the party to inquire:

"Are the women employed in the shipyards as satisfactory and efficient as the companies say they are, or is that just a line to encourage more women to sign up?" It was this question that brought the "God bless the women" reply.

The Calship yards are the largest thing of the kind in the world, Admiral Emory Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission told us. He was there to award the "M" pennant to the plant after having supervised the launching of two Liberty ships at the yards of the Consolidated Steel Co. nearby just a couple of hours before. Not only is Calship the largest plant in the world, but turns out the greatest number of vessels and at the least cost per unit.

The place is a beehive or madhouse, as you please, with the clatter of hundreds of riveting hammers that is deafening. Ships are in various stages of construction in each of the 14 ways. A ship is launched at least every other day. Some days two slide into the water and there have been as many as three launches a day. They scarcely splash into the water before huge cranes lower the keels of other ships down into the ways that have just been vacated and the workmen who have just finished one boat start all over again on another. There isn't an intermission of ten minutes in the clatter of ship construction.

Liberty ships being turned out at Calship are of 10,500 tons, costing about $1,500,000 each. From the laying of the keel until the hull is turned over to the outfitters 22 days elapse. The outfitters finish their job and the boat is sent out to be loaded with cargo in nine days or a little less—a total of 31 days. It doesn't seem possible when you have gone over the sturdily built vessels. When they are taken over by the Maritime Commission they are complete in every detail with comforts for officers and crew that are quite surprising. But most of all they are sturdy—and huge as they stand in the ways before launching; imposing as they ride the water afterward.

Only a fourth of the 45,000 Calship employees now are women, whereas 40 percent of the employees at the Kaiser yards in Richmond are women. But Calship expects that its percentage of females will be about 10 by July 1 and at least three times that by late September as more and more men are taken into the armed services. The turnover of manpower has been terrific. An executive of the company says it has been nearly 90 percent in the last year.

As the shifts change hundreds of employees instead of heading for home go into classes that are maintained around the clock for instruction of new employees and to prepare older ones for better and more exacting jobs where more experience is necessary. Attendance at these classes is, of course, voluntary as is membership in scores of clubs—riding dancing, bridge, outing and what-not.

As you wander through the enormous place you are impressed with the fact that most of the male employees are men in the forties and beyond. The number of youths is very small, the armed forces having taken the cream of them. There are lots of girls and young women—good looking ones, too. But there are also lots of the middle aged many of them quite gray. But everyone is busy. The work moves right up to them and they must push it along. If sex interferes with efficiency at Calship the writer says little or no evidence of it on his way through. But it is noticeable that the activities are so well co-ordinated that there is east of the Mississippi.

OPA said this would be followed within a few days by a similar roll back in retail ceiling prices of meat and subsequent steps to cut retail coffee prices.
These cuts constitute a part of OPA's government subsidy program to reduce living costs.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

What with Chief Richards in the hospital, and First Assistant Chief Norris sick in bed, it was the grand occasion for Vern Udell to take over the reins of the meeting after our 4th Friday evening. Vern did the job well and looked quite natural there.

Pumps on the oldest truck worked well by drawing water from the basins and if it can be relied on to operate in this manner when badly needed, not much more could be asked. The truck is very old and surely has paid its way.

It was fine sight to see Harold Spears back at the meeting after a long absence, due to illness. It appears as though the firemen are having an epidemic of minor maladies. Charlie Peterson is back home now after having been in the hospital. He is reported as improving rapidly.

So far we have not been bothered with fire calls such as are common at this time of year, which is a good sign that fire prevention is being practiced. The lots being plowed by the city crew look a great deal better than those where lots have been burned off and trees singed.

Stage All Set For A Rose Tournament

Pasadena is all set to stage another Tournament of Roses and all the incidentals next New Year's Day if war conditions permit. Its Tournament association appointed all necessary committees this week and planned details of all the events that have become a part of the tournament, though there has been no tournament since war was declared. Officials of the organization have little confidence that it will be possible to put it on this winter, but they will go ahead with plans for the Rose Bowl football game, for which permission was granted last January, and the crowning of a Rose Queen and the incidental social affairs.

Red Cross To Train Staff Assistants For Work Here

The Sierra Madre Chapter of the Red Cross is making an appeal for volunteer workers willing to give two hours a week for six weeks to attend a lecture course to train for special service as Red Cross staff assistants.

A course is soon to start in a Pasadena department store. However, if 15 volunteers will sign up for the course, an instructor will be obtained to give a course at the local headquarters at 47 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Staff assistants provide administrative and clerical help in connection with the regular chapter activities, such as services to the armed forces, disaster relief, and work in the junior Red Cross. In addition they may aid many philanthropic organizations and civilian defense groups.

Persons interested should call Mrs. N. B. Hutton, chairman of the local headquarters staff assistants, at 6513.

PJC Girl Qualifies For Important Work In War Effort

Graduating from the lower division of Pasadena Junior College this June where she has served as a member of the cabinet and in various other capacities, Edwina Rhodes, 702 Manzanita ave., also holds the position of aeronautical computer for the Galcit projects in the wind tunnel at the California Institute of Technology. The youngest member of the force at work, Miss Rhodes puts in a minimum of 30 hours a week at Cal-Tech and will devote full time to the projects when school is out in June. Having studied dancing since early childhood, it is still her favorite form of recreation and a portion of her leisure time is spent sitting for artists and photographers of this vicinity.

Wilson Students Honor Service Men

George Tyree, 9-2 of Sierra Madre, was the featured singer on the Memorial Day assemblies at Woodrow Wilson Junior High School when the combined glee clubs sang the dramatic and powerful "Ballad for Americans" (Robinson). The purpose of the assemblies was to honor the boys living through this war rather than those who have died in former wars. The entire program consisted of a short concert presented by the orchestra followed by the "Ballad for Americans."

The latter part of the program honored Wilson's fathers, brothers and alumni of Wilson in the armed forces. Brothers and sisters of the honored boys received greeting cards, to be sent to their servicemen.

The program was presented on two days, Thursday for the lower graders and Friday for the upper graders.

Name Day of Church To Be Celebrated

The Church of the Ascension will celebrate the Name Day of the parish today (June 3) with two celebrations of the Holy Communion, at 8 and 10 a.m., and Choral Evensong at 7:30 p.m. The choir will sing the anthem: "Lift Up Your Heads," by Coleridge-Taylor. Subject of the rector's sermon will be "The Steep Ascent to Heaven." The public is cordially invited.

"God Bless Women" Says Ship Builder

Little apparent supervision. Everyone's work moves right to him or her.

For a long time there was a bottleneck at all the shipyards in the Terminal Island area. Launched ships loafed in the waterways waiting to be outfitted. Not so now. The outfitters have caught up and are waiting for boats to be turned over to them. Even the engines are coming through pretty well as needed. But the cry is ever and ever for more steel. It is the only thing that threatens delay now. The future problem is help.

While the publishers were at the yard they saw the launching of a Liberty ship named after Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior in the cabinet of President Woodrow Wilson. Mrs. Magnus Anderson, sister of the late Secretary Lane, smashed the bottle of wine over its nose. Construction of two ships was completed during the afternoon and they were turned over to the outfitters. One ship just completed by the outfitters was sent to the warehouses nearby to take on its first cargo and was scheduled to be on its way three days later—approximately 34 days after its keel was laid. Another was to go down the ways Saturday and two more were being made ready for launching on Memorial Day.

The nearby Consolidated yards launched two Liberty ships as we toured the Calship yards. One of them, the Cape Isabel, was sponsored by Mrs. Earl Warren, wife of the governor. The other, the Cape Friendship, was sponsored by Mrs. Carl Hinshaw, wife of the Congressman.

You may be curious to see the miracle of mass ship production and to visit one of the great yards. Here is a tip—don't go unless you have plenty of credentials, or you won't get far. There is a guard every few feet. And are they particular—meaning efficient.

Sierra Madrean Is Leader In Jewish Refugee Movement

Joseph Weber of E. Alegria has accepted the campaign chairmanship of Sierra Madre, Monrovia, Azusa, Arcadia and Duarte in the United Jewish Welfare Fund appeal to Jewish residents for some 45 local overseas humanitarian, rehabilitation, health and child care services, which was officially opened in Los Angeles County last week.

Organization plans are going forward in all the San Gabriel Valley communities and sub-chairmen are being appointed in each city, Weber says. Prospective volunteer workers in this campaign to "Rescue the Living" are urged to contact him at 140 East Alegria.

Census Of Part Time Workers Will Be Taken By AWVS

The War Manpower Commission in Pasadena has asked the American Women's Voluntary Services to cooperate in making a survey of the number of persons in this area who are available for parttime work in local essential industries.

"Women who can work 4 hours a day and men who can devote an extra 4 hours before or after their regular business hours should sign up immediately," said Mrs. Marion de Paar of the United State Employment Service.

This is the chance for housewives, mothers of school children, everyone whose responsibilities preclude them from participating in a full time job, to take an active vital part in the war effort a chance for those already employed to devote a few extra hours which will go so far to step up production to speed victory.

Art In War Training Will Be Shown In Pasadena Exhibit

"Art in War Training," an exhibition of the training aids used in the United States Army in the training of troops for combat, will be shown by the Pasadena Art Institute in cooperation with Brig. Gen. B. W. Simpson, Commanding General at Camp Santa Anita.

Occupying all main galleries and the patio of the Institute, at 46 N. Los Robles Avenue, the exhibit will be open to the public without charge from June 3 to 30th.

Items to be displayed are typical of the charts and models developed teaching of other training.

The exhibition will provide a rare opportunity for a close-up picture of war materials and training methods used by the Army. The high quality and effectiveness of these training aids are being demonstrated daily on the war fronts.

Motor Vehicle Fees To Remain Same

When motor vehicle registration time rolls around again next year, motorists will pay no higher fees despite the big increase in the market value of all used motor vehicles. Fees in 1944 and 1945 are set at exactly the same as were paid this year in a bill just signed by Governor Warren.

It is estimated the saving to the vehicle owners will approximate $9,000,000 because the old law required fixing of the license fee, or "in lieu" tax as it is commonly known, on the basis of current market values. There is also a clause in the new law to permit a lower assessment in 1945, should market values fall meanwhile.

G.O.P. Candidate Out Against Voorhis

Thomas Ball, San Marino attorney, has cut loose the 1944 Congressional campaign in the adjoining 12th district, now represented at Washington by Jerry Voorhis. Ball has announced his candidacy. He is the first aspirant to announce against Voorhis.

Rev. Bob Schuler who battled it out with the incumbent as the G.O.P. candidate in the 1942 general election is expected to contest with Ball for the Republican nomination. Voorhis has been assured he will have at least two contenders for the Democratic nomination. Voorhis is a possible contender for the U.S. Senate seat of Sheridan Downey.

What They Say ---

MAJ. GEN. GILBREATH, Commanding S. F. Port of Embarkation—"One motor depot near here can put 3000 vehicles a day into shipping condition for use on arrival at destination. If the modern army wins a war on wheels, then we will certainly win!"

10,000 American-made alarm clocks are on the way to England to help awaken that country in time to go to work. We wonder how that is going to promote the friendly feeling of the British for America.

According to the "Nutritional Yardstick," the fruits for which the Boiling Water Bath Method is recommended constitute a large portion of your family's nutritional picture. It recommends that your budget for the year ahead should provide for some 38 quarts per person distributed over the following items: berries, peaches, pears, plums, grapes, rhubarb, cherries, apples, apricots—and another 30 quarts of tomatoes. Multiply those amounts by the number in your family and you can figure out the number of jars you will need for your summer's stint.

Political Parade

By CLEM WHITAKER

Party campaign strategists, as they prepare for the 1944 elections, are running smack up against the hard fact that the American electorate has undergone sweeping changes since the war began, with the result that many new hazards have been injected into the always hazardous game of politics.

The most obvious change, of course, is that almost all of the Nation's younger voters are in the armed forces, or will be there long before election day—and relatively few are expected to make use of the absentee ballot, no matter how steamed up the party bosses may get about the matter.

There are approximately 7,500,000 men under arms at the present time, with 3,500,000 more scheduled to be mustered in—and while some are under voting age, the great majority would have the right to vote under normal conditions, but probably won't vote during 1944. That factor is a decisive disadvantage for the Democrats, as the registration of younger voters has been proportionately higher in the Democratic party than in the GOP.

While the Democrats still hold a hefty lead over the Republicans in registration totals, that disparity will also be offset to some extent by the fact that many more women than men will go to the polls next year. And the Republican party numbers more women members than men, with the reverse true in the Democratic Party. For the first time in the country's history, there were more women voters than men in the congressional elections last fall—and while there were other factors contributing to the debacle, the Democrats took a terrific shellacking. In California, too, the women's vote was admittedly a big aid to Earl Warren last year in overcoming the million registration advantage held by the Democrats, and in enabling him to defeat Democratic Culbert L. Olson in the hotly-fought race for Governor.

Women cast about 53 percent of the total vote in last year's elections. Next year, it is expected they will represent from 57 to 60 percent of the vote total, with clear-cut dominance in every State in the Nation.

Of lesser importance, but not to be lightly discounted, is the fact that farmers will play a proportionately greater part in the elections next year, due to the policy of draft deferment for farmers now in effect. And just as women are generally more conservative in their voting than men, farmers are more conservative than city voters. Also adding to the likelihood of a more conservative trend at the polls in '44 is the fact that war industries are paying boom wages.

These changes in the body politic, for the most part, seem to favor the GOP—and to nullify much of the Democratic edge in registration. The Democrats, on the other hand, will undoubtedly seek to make capital of the American people's normal disinclination to swap horses in the middle of the stream.

The.... Watch Tower

By Percy Poore Sheehan

A TERRIBLE BOOK but fascinating; with a fascination similar, no doubt, to that which murder mysteries have for certain people: The Hour of Decision, by Oswald Spengler, he who had previously written The Decline of the West. Both books now old but still throwing lurid light on the world's greatest present murder mystery, this German nightmare. Both books also it seems to us, distillations of the peculiarly German variety of moral and spiritual hasheesh, Wagnerian, Gothic-Faustian, to use one of Spengler's own favorite words. Evoking a spectre of that present Faustus of Berchtesgaden; he who has also sold his soul to the Devil; and is now by way of dragging his Gretchen Nazidum—none too virtuous in the first place, else she wouldn't have succumbed so easily for a handful of phony jewels—down to hell with him.

BUT TO RETURN to The Hour of Decision. Published in 1934, when Hitler himself must have still been feeling like an experiment. A creation of Black Magic. Brewed by Spengler and his fellow-alchemists in the dark, medieval German school. This book, then new, as a follow-up on its famous predecessor, to impress upon our decadent West that Germany, and Germany alone, still had the stuff to save us. But only a purged and purified Germany. Purged of what? Of all those things that had already weakened the West and had almost made even Germany effeminate. What were those things? Hope, Faith, Charity—"cowardly optimism"—"justice, happiness, and peace"—those dreams which will always remain dreams. While the forces needed to sway the future are, according to Herr Spengler, "the will of the Strong, healthy instincts"—the italics are Spengler's own—"race, the will to possession and power."

THAT IS, a return to the old historic murderous Germany, when there were only two classes that really counted: First, the nobility, and every nobleman an officer; and Second, the peasantry, with every peasant a soldier or a mother of soldiers. For man, says Spengler, here as he has said it before, "is a beast of prey." And he goes on: "I shall say it again and again. All the would-be moralists and social-ethics people who claim or hope to be beyond all that are only beasts of prey with their teeth broken." "Prussianism" is the word of power in the Spengler vocabulary, and Germany alone has it. And "with this treasure of exemplary Being," he says; with this Prussianism Germany may become the educator of the white world now and perhaps its saviour.

SPENGLER MAY BE right, if, as he says, "Human history is war history," and nothing else except for folly and degradation. Does that mean then, in passing, that England or America are to have no part in his Hour of Decision? Let him tell you. England, exhausted by the First World war, is no longer "strong, young, or healthy enough, spiritually and racially," to undertake further wars with confidence. (Written, of course, ten years ago.) As for America, he quotes at length from an old report by ex-President Hoover showing how far we've fallen into an even greater decadence—the millions of our youth with faulty hearing, hearts, and sight; the more than a million mentally retarded or with "behavior problems;" the 300,000 cripples; besides "all the uncounted terrible numbers of abnormal people of every description." From which degenerate crop, Spengler adds, comes our "revolutionary proletariat."

LET'S SKIP the rest and think of other things—of those things, say, which Herr Spengler regards as dreams—dreams always to remain—such as "Justice, Happiness, Peace." Herr Spengler is a German. He wrote from Munich—Munich the capital of Bavaria; which, before the Nazi pollution, was one of the fairest regions of the world, home of some of the world's kindest people. Especially away back and up there in the cool green meadows and wooded slopes of the Bavarian Alps. Haunted now by Hitler in his lair of Berchtesgaden. But that will pass. That whole country is rich in legends and this will soon become but another of them.

WELL, WE WENT by up that way once, long ago, and saw something that kept coming back to us all the time we were reading this Spengler book. Like a rebuttal. Like a soft Bavarian voice telling Herr Spengler how wrong he was. What we saw was just a glimpse

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

Will women, after the war, go back to the home, to domestic duties, to pre-war professions, leaving the broader field to men returning from military service?

Will they resign their commissions, tear up their union cards, forswear their high wages and help to level out the available work with available workers?

As more and more thousands of women daily are called into industry agriculture, science, medicine and business to fill draft created vacancies, the problem of post war redistribution of work casts a lengthening shadow over the peace days to come.

The big problem today is getting sufficient women into war work. Tomorrow's problem will be to get them out, and it is the bigger one.

Though women are invited, caajoled—and soon may be drafted—into men's jobs today, it won't be so when the peace is won and Johnny comes marching home. Joan's indisposition to hand the job back to Johnny will be a source of major controversy just as it was after the last war when women used their wartime labor leverage to gain their first real economic foothold.

Millions are moving into war jobs today who will be asked to move out when the men sail home to become civilians again. Before the end of this year, according to the Barth semi-annual survey, the banking, real estate and insurance business of the Pacific Coast will be manned 72 per cent by women, and the department stores will be run with a 67 per cent feminine personnel.

In Uncle Sam's services, the Waves alone will total 5,000 officers and 75,000 enlisted women within the next few months. The Women's Reserve will be as large as the nation's pre-war Navy!

In Britain it is believed war weary women will flock back to their homes when victory is won. Sir Gerald Campbell figures it this way: "One house in five must be rebuilt, and a woman with a new home is bound to come and live in it."

Perhaps Sir Gerald has the germ of an idea there. Maybe the solution lies not in government edict but in personal resolve. Let our returning heroes take full advantage of the veterans' farm and home loan program now in the making, and then personally set about wheeling their womenfolk into turning over their jobs to the vets in exchange for cozy cottages and firesides to keep.

Certainly the job would be no more difficult than taking over the mortally defended pill boxes and machine gun nests daily conquered by our boys—single handed.

as our bus plodded by. Of a tiny field with a stone wall around it; at a corner of the wall a tall old crucifix of carved stone sharp and dark against the pale clear sky; and, at the foot of this, three dignified kindly old men, peasants all, but formal in their Sunday clothes. And what were they doing? This: while two watched and kept count the third turned the water of a sparkling little mountain-stream into the field to irrigate. That was all. But there was something here, we kept on thinking, worth all of Spengler's books—as prophecy, as history, as just plain truth about human hope and goodness.

Speaking of Corregidor, the fortress in Manila Bay which fell a year ago to the Japanese, General MacArthur said, "Intrinsicly it is but a barren, war-worn rock, hallowed like so many other places, by death and disaster. Yet it symbolizes within itself that priceless, deathless thing, the honor of a Nation." Ironically enough, Premier Tojo arrived at Manila last week on a military inspection trip where he planned to "have a frank exchange of views" with Jorge Vargas, chairman of the Philippines Executive Commission. The report of an American air attack on a New Japanese base in the Solomons indicates Japan is working feverishly now to bolster its outer defenses against the gradually tightening ring of American bases. Now that the U.S. has moved into Allice Islands in the South Central Pacific, has occupied the Russell Islands north of Guadalcanal and brought increasing pressure to bear on Kiska in the Aleutians, it can safely be assumed that our position is strengthening to a point which is making the Japanese devote all their energies to strengthening their own positions. When the time comes, we can use Kiska—and will!

Whatever its sins of omission or commission, the 1943 State Legislature established two all-time records. It enacted the first comprehensive tax reduction program in the State's history, cutting up an $87,000,000 melon for the taxpayers. And it gave California undisputed claim to having the most liberal old age pension ($50 a month at age 65) in the Nation.

— For Victory, Buy Bonds —
After watching the legislators rush for the "pork barrel" during the closing days of the legislative session, our observer reports cryptically that "The Economy Bloc was wrecked on the rock of Surplus!"

— For Victory, Buy Bonds —
Americans have been nomads since the first "gasoline buggy" wheezed out of a reformed wagon works. Ninety per cent of all peace-time travel was by private car and in 1940 the motorist rolled up approximately 298 billion miles compared with 73 billion for all other forms of transportation. The extent of our dependence on individual transportation may be judged from these facts—54,000 communities, or 43 percent of the total, relied entirely on highway travel to maintain their daily existence before gas rationing, while some 2,300 cities and towns with a total population of 12,500,000 persons depended entirely on the automobile to transport passengers. And motor vehicles are the only form of conveyance available to 18,000,000 non-farm residents in rural areas. The advent of war underlined the fact that 82 per cent of Americans went to work by automobile.

FAIR WARNING

...before you board
the Train!

Train travel is different in wartime. Nowadays S. P. trains are generally crowded, often late, and some cars aren't bright and shiny like they used to be. You may have to wait quite a while to get into the dining car on some trains.

The reason is—our war job!

Equipment, including dining cars, must be diverted constantly for military use. Troop trains and war freights often move over our lines on emergency schedules to which regular service must be adapted. The need for cars is so pressing that it is often impossible to take them out of service for renovation and overhaul.

We are short of cars, locomotives, manpower—but we're putting first things first and pushing the war trains through. After the war is won, S. P. hopes to make up to you for today's uncomfortable train travel. Meantime we suggest you follow this . . .

Wartime Traveler's Guide

1. Unless your train trip is really essential please don't make it
2. If you must travel, do so on Tuesdays or Wednesdays or Thursdays. Avoid week-ends—that's when our trains are most crowded.
3. Cancel space reservations promptly if your plans change. Train space is too precious nowadays to go unused.
4. Travel light—take with you on the train only baggage you'll need on the train. Check other baggage at least a day in advance
5. Help stretch available train accommodations by buying just the space you really need—no more, no less. Share your bedroom, compartment or drawing room with a friend.
6. Eat before you board the train if possible. For many trains it may be well to bring your lunch or buy a box lunch (for lunch or any meal).
7. If you eat in the dining car, please remember other folks are waiting. No need to bolt your meal—but please don't linger over it.

This Cookie Makes Biggest Hit With Men In Service

Mrs. Lawrence Goff has shipped off hundreds of cookies to her two sons in the Army—all kinds of cookies. But a peanut butter number made after her own recipe is in such demand from the boys and their buddies that she has called it the "servicemen's favorite" and sends out a couple of boxes of them every week. Here is her recipe:

Cream together 1/2 cup smooth grind peanut butter, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup brown sugar and two well beaten eggs. Beat all together until light and fluffy.

To 1 1/2 cups of sifted flour add 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon of baking soda. Work into the first mixture. Break into small portions, roll into balls with hands. Place on well greased baking sheet about two inches apart. With tines of silver fork flatten

Expert Advice For Victory Gardeners

Here are suggestions for Victory gardeners by A. F. Gillette, assistant county farm advisor, on how much of some of the principal vegetables to plant:

How many seeds to plant? Beets from one planting are in good condition for harvest for six weeks. At three plantings a week you will need 18 servings of beets in the six weeks for each person in the family. One foot of row should make one serving; therefore 18 feet of beet row for each person in the family is all that should be planted at one time. Put in an extra bit for a guest and the gopher and you have 20 feet per person. Time the plantings to avoid excess.

A snap bean planting is good for four weeks, carrots for eight weeks, lettuce for six weeks, spinach two weeks, sweet corn 10 days.

The number of feet of row to supply one serving is—beans one foot, carrots two feet, lettuce one foot, and sweet corn four feet.

Opinions Differ On County Tax Rate Cut

Opinions of county supervisors differ materially as to the amount it will be possible to reduce the county tax rate for the current year. Roger Jessup, former president of the board, has estimated the probable cut at 17 cents. Gordon McDonough, present chairman, says it will probably be a reduction of about 10 cents, dropping to $1.24 per $100 of assessed valuation. William A. Smith, supervisor of this district, merely says he is absolutely sure it will be a sizeable reduction.
